

Our LGBT+ media recommendations (15+)

Moonlight, rated 15

Oscar winning film that chronicles the childhood, adolescence and burgeoning adulthood of a young, African-American, gay man growing up in a rough neighbourhood of Miami.

Pride, rated 15

Based on real-life events, this uplifting film follows the efforts of UK gay activists (Lesbians and Gays Support the Miners) to help miners during the national strikes that took place in 1984.

Booksmart, rated 15

Before graduation, best friends Amy and Molly realise that they have been cast aside by their peers for being bookworms and pretentious. They then decide to let loose and make up for the lost time.

Paris is Burning, rated 15

Filmed in the 1980s this landmark documentary examines New York ball culture - competitions in which contestants must "walk", much like runway fashion-shows. The scene was populated mainly by Black and Latino members of the gay and transgender community. The film documents the balls themselves, the lives of the participants and allows them to speak about their experiences of racism, homophobia, HIV/AIDS and poverty.

Disclosure, rated 15

An in-depth look at Hollywood's depiction of transgender people and the impact of those stories on transgender lives and American culture.

The Miseducation of Cameron Post, rated 15

In 1993 after teenage Cameron is caught in the backseat of a car with the prom queen, she is sent away to a treatment centre in a remote area called God's Promise. While she is being subjected to questionable gay conversion therapies, she bonds with some fellow residents as they pretend to go along with the process while waiting to be released.

The Log Books, rated 16

A podcast which explores the records of calls to LGBT+ charity Switchboard, offering listeners the chance to explore LGBT+ history and stories from decades past.
